DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

- 1) Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
  - I. Claims 1-3, drawn to a method for improving the characteristics of a fiber material web, classified in class 162, subclass 199.
  - II. Claims 4-30, drawn to an apparatus for improving the characteristics of a fiber material web, classified in class 162, subclass 263.
  - III. Claims 31-88, drawn to a method of making a fiber material web, classified in class 162, subclass 208
  - IV. Claims 89-146, drawn to an apparatus for making a fiber material web, classified in class 162, subclass 289.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case the apparatus can be used to practice another and materially different process, for example, treatment of flax or sugar cane.

Inventions I and III, inventions II and III, and inventions I and IV, are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the method or apparatus for improving the characteristics of a fiber material web and the method or apparatus for making a fiber material web are different inventions because the method or apparatus for making a fiber material web are for the function of making of the web and are not dependent or related to the improvement of the web.

Inventions III and IV are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case the apparatus can be used to practice another and materially different process, for example, treatment of flax or sugar cane.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement<sup>o</sup> to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
